the Act 16 and 17 Vic., cap. 119. This Act makes it an offence to open or keep for use an office, a room, or other place for the purpose of buying with persons resorting thereto. By the superior courts the expression "other place" has been construed with much elasticity. A stool, a desk, a seat with an umbrella over it, even an habitual shelter under a tree, have all been held to be illegal betting resorts within the meaning of the Act. The action of the Salford Town Clerk has aroused a panic among those interested in betting, lest, if the prosecutions thus instituted should succeed, similar crusades should hereafter be instituted with reference to other recreances and their habitats. Many people have hazarded the conjecture, and not for the first time, that if betting is illegal in "offices" &c., of this sort, not only is no "Tattersall's enclosure" or any recreance free from the penalties of the law, but also even such sanctuaries as Tattersall's rooms at Albert-gate, the Victoria in Wellington-street, and the rooms at Newmarket or Doncaster, exist only at the mercy of the Public Prosecutor, and may be closed at any moment if he chooses to set the law in motion. Such was the state of affairs in regard to the question of betting in England when the last mail left. What then is the state of affairs at the present time in regard to lotteries in the Settlements. In the minutes of the Municipal Council forwarded to us for publication yesterday, we read that "The Superintendent of Police reports that the local lottery offices conducted by Chinese have been closed by the Mixed Court; there are still, however, seven offices open, six of which are conducted by Portuguese, and one by a British subject; he, therefore, recommends that a summons should be applied for at the Supreme Court against the latter for selling lottery tickets. Deceased, I authorize this being done." Lotteries are illegal, according to Chinese Law, as shown by the action the Mixed Court has taken, and we believe we are correct in stating that Mr. J. da Silva, while Consul for Portugal, compelled one of his subjects to close a lottery established on the system of the Manila Lottery, but his successor Mr. Pinto Basto in October, 1880, and in April, 1881, refused, on the application of the Municipal Council, to close lotteries started by Portuguese on the ground of their similarity to the many race lotteries held at the Shanghai and Concordia Clubs and Central Hotel. It is, we presume, on the precedent laid down by Mr. Pinto Basto that the now Acting Portuguese Consul, or rather his deputy at the Mixed Court, has declined to interfere with the six lottery offices mentioned by the Superintendent of Police as conducted by Portuguese. That the law of Portugal prohibits lotteries of the kind complained of, the action of Mr. J. da Silva fully establishes, but the course subsequently adopted by Mr. Pinto Basto throws the onus on the Council of taking steps to stop all illegal lotteries in the Settlement, and they seem now to have incurred the thin edge of the wedge by ordering a summons to be applied for at the Supreme Court against a British subject for selling lottery tickets. We are informed that three or four English subjects have been, or are now, interested in the lottery agencies that sell tickets to Chinese and foreigners alike, and while we presume in the forthcoming prosecution in the British Court, it will not be competent for the defendant to introduce irrelevant matter as to what is done elsewhere, the case cannot but have an interest being an lottery agency generally; and to use the same argument that has been applied to the betting prosecution at Manchester, if a lottery by a British subject on a small scale in a Chinese house is illegal, the lotteries at the Clubs, Hotels, Spices, etc., exist only at the mercy of the Public Prosecutor—the Superintendent of Police or the Municipal Council—and may be closed at any moment if he chooses to set the law in motion. It is supposed to be a well known principle that the law recognizes no distinction of persons, and one isolated prosecution in the British Court is not likely to attain what we suppose is the real object in view, a complete stoppage to the lottery nuisance as it now exists in Shanghai. While lotteries are allowed to be openly carried on unmolested, it is open to any particular Consul to object to one of his subjects being singled out and punished for a supposed evil, when a like evil exists to a greater extent in the very next house to the one which he has occupied. For the Council, then, to be successful in stamping out the nuisance that exists, stronger steps are necessary than any that have yet been taken, and as all consuls are concerned, the united action of the Consular Body is necessary before the evil can be eradicated. The present position of affairs is briefly this. There are now nearly a dozen Chinamen undergoing various terms of imprisonment in the Mixed Court jail for having been connected with lotteries in the Settlement, which is an offence not only against the laws of every other nation, but represented here, and an offence, too, in relation to which subjects of some, if not all, of these other nations cannot consider themselves entirely guiltless. There is, therefore, an inequality of justice in regard to lotteries in the Settlement that is contrary to the principles of honest government, and it calls for immediate remedial measures. Great difficulties, we know, beset the question, but they are difficulties that should not be shirked by the united wisdom of the Municipal and Consular Bodies, but boldly faced without fear, favour, or affection.

In the consideration of this subject, the free sale of the Manila Lottery tickets, the Settlement is an important point, and one that has hitherto caused considerable discussion. This lottery is a national one, legalized by the Spanish Government, and it appears to us that any evil that exists in regard to the sale of the tickets here might be remedied by representations to the proper authorities. Lottery companies are 25,000 tickets. Only about 7,000 of these are sold in Manila, and the remaining 18,000 find purchasers in Hongkong, Macao, and China, and we are informed that some 10,000 to 12,000 tickets find their way to Shanghai every month. These tickets are sold indiscriminately, and used as the purchaser likes; whereas we imagine that if the Foreign Consuls and Consul were to represent the evil that exists to the Spanish authorities, some scheme might be devised whereby the Spanish Consul would have surveillance over the sale of the tickets, and thereby be in a position to deal with frauds, impositions, and bogus lotteries that now result from the absence of any system in regard to the sale of the tickets here.—Shanghai Courier.

THE VICTORIA REGATTA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG TELEGRAPH."
SIR,—May I, through your valuable columns, call the attention of those interested in the late regatta, to the following facts in connection with one of the races?
In the programme published in the local press, of the second day's races, Race No. 7 was one, "To be rowed in 5 or 6 oared Royal Naval Gigs or Whalers, by the officers of H.M.S. Fleet in Harbour. Cup presented by the Members of the Hongkong Club."
The Warrant Officers of some of H.M. Ships in harbour formed a crew and entered a 5 oared Whaler belonging to the Victor Emanuel.
The day after the entry of the Victor Emanuel was received from the Hon. Secretary of the V. R. C.
Hongkong, December 12th, 1882.
SIR,—With reference to your entry for race No. 7 (Second day) at the forthcoming Regatta, and the conversation I had with you this morning, I have the honor to inform you that the Committee of the V.R.C. have decided that the race referred to above is for Commissioned Officers only, and that no Warrant Officer is entitled to row in it. If, however, there is not a sufficient number of Commissioned Officers to make up crews, the Committee are willing to make the race one for Warrant Officers only.
I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient Servant,
J. H. STEWART-LOCKHART,
Hon. Sec., V. R. C.

In the face of this communication, the race was contested by two boats only, whose crews were composed as follows:—Encounter—5 oared whaler—4 Commissioned and 2 Warrant Officers. Lily and Vigilant—6 oared whaler—1 Commissioned, 1 Warrant, and 1 Subordinate Officer.
The result, as you are aware, was a victory for the Encounter's boat.
It is important to note that the boat entered by the victorious representatives of the Encounter was the boat in which the Warrant Officers crew mentioned above intended to pull.
Now, Sir, as apparently the qualifying conditions of entry for this race had been subsequently again changed from those set forth in the above letter of the Hon. Secretary, would it not have been an act of common courtesy and justice on his part to have informed the scratched crew of the change, in order to allow them entering their boat?
I wonder if the Hon. Secretary or the Committee, who are responsible for these alterations, were in any way away or influenced by the counsel of those interested in the race?
Under any circumstances, a feeling of injury as well as a want of confidence in the management has been very widely spread—I enclose my card, and am,
Yours, &c.,
Justice.
Hongkong, 18th December, 1882.

THE DISQUALIFICATION OF THE GUNNER.
TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG TELEGRAPH."
SIR,—I should like very much, with your kind permission, to say a few words about the Gig Race contested at the Victoria Regatta on Friday the 15th inst.
You, in your issue of that day's date, rate the boats as follows—Gunner 1st, Zulu 2nd, and Buff 3rd. The China Mail and Daily Press, on the other hand, give first place to the Zulu, and second honours to the Buff, disqualifying the R.A. boat on the ground of a foul. Now, it is concerning this foul that I should like, in fairness to ourselves, to pass a few remarks.
At about 200 yards from the point of starting, the coxswain of the Police Boat steered his vessel to starboard, altogether out of his own course, so much so as to cause a foul to take place, notwithstanding the fact that the R.A. steersman endeavored to keep away as much as he possibly could, without on his part colliding with the Buff's boat, and this course the Police pursued for nearly the whole of the race, although they were hailed several times by the Gunners, to keep to their own water; and despite the strenuous efforts made to avoid it by the R.A. coxswain, another foul occurred when about 200 yards from the winning post. The latter foul could only be attributed to the Chinese helmsman of the Police boat keeping up the hugging policy which caused the collision in the first instance; in fact, one might have been excused for thinking that the sturdy guardians of the peace, were endeavouring to outwile the tactics of the Hillsdale crew on the Thames.

From accounts of various impartial eye witnesses of the event, they all blame the Police boat for the unsatisfactory result, for, as it is clearly pointed out, had the Gunner gone to starboard further than she did, she would virtually have been out of the race altogether, or else unpleasantness would have arisen between her and the crew of the Buff's boat. However, the umpires seemed to see things with a different eye, and consequently the race went to the Police.

You may well imagine, Sir, that the Gunner's crew are far from feeling satisfied with the affair, as they feel that they have been badly dealt with, and a considerable amount of dissatisfaction was felt when they read in your issue of Saturday the challenge from the Police crew to row the course over again, for twenty dollars per oar, and as they feel confident that they won the race on their merits alone, they willingly accept the challenge.

At present, unfortunately, the annual gun practice of the Police Artillery is taking place, and consequently our time is much occupied; but in about a month from this date, we shall be delighted to meet our old opponents, to prove conclusively, by strength of muscle, which are the better men, the Police or the Gunners.

Apologizing for trespassing at such length on your valuable space,
Yours, &c.,
A GUNNER.
[P.S.—The R.A. crew will be glad to hear further from the Police representatives as to date of match, &c.]
Hongkong, 18th December, 1882.
